SELECTION SERVICE:

People Force International, amongst other things, specialise in helping organisations select the best system that meet their entire needs. Systems can range from HR, Payroll, Talent Management, Performance Management, Time & Attendance and Applicant Tracking Systems.

The independent procurement service that People Force International provide, through its expertise of the people technology market, really makes the organisation a trusted partner of choice. As HR professionals and systems experts, People Force International can map requirements against suitable providers in an efficient and timely manner. This extensive knowledge allows People Force International to stay current with the needs of the client and the knowledge of available systems ensuring they can provide an unrivalled and unique service.

TESTIMONIALS:

People Force International's HR and systems knowledge allowed us to make an informed selection decision for our HR and Payroll Software needs.

Kelly Fletcher, HR Manager, Sony Music Publishing

People Force supported the tender process from long list through to contracting; they were the first point of contact for prospective suppliers and they managed contact with them throughout negotiations. They also provided consultative advice on system choice to support our decision making process.

Ed Haslam, HR Director, Forterra

CLIENT-SIDE IMPLEMENTATION SERVICES:

People Force International, irrespective of system selected, can be engaged directly by the client to be involved in the implementation. Services range from Project Advisory, Internal Project Management, Process re-engineering/design, reports identification, testing, self-service roll out and post-live support.

TESTIMONIALS:

People Force International have a deep knowledge of HR systems and as HR experts they were able to provide us with an extremely valuable service. We would highly recommend People Force International if you are looking to successfully implement a new HR system.

Amy Hughes, Head of HR, HgCapital LLP

People Force International were insightful, offered guidance and challenged the design of our processes. I would recommend them for support with implementing HR systems but have no doubt that they would offer the same level of professional support with other services which they offer.

Kathryn Seys, Group Head of HR, SQW Group

DATA ADMINISTRATION SERVICES:

People Force International can be engaged by the client to carry out data cleansing and/or document upload/renaming services, both crucial activities ahead of data transfer live into the new system during an implementation.

TESTIMONIALS:

Our HR data has been cleansed by People Force International prior to migration into our new HRIS. This was an important step in our transition to a sophisticated piece of technology.

Julie Leeper, HR Manager, Steamship Insurance

People Force International managed our data cleansing and document renaming as part of our new HRIS implementation; they did a thorough and very diligent job. They have a very good understanding of HR, HR data and systems.
